How to calculate the premium

Utilize QuickQuote.myenroller.com or the worksheet below to calculate the premium.

Step 1: Find the monthly base premium rate
Find the monthly premium rate on the following tables based on the plan, applicant's age, gender, and ZIP code. Write the monthly base premium rate on line 1 below.

Step 2: Determine the rate class
Write 1 on line 2 below for all applicants in an open enrollment or guaranteed issue period.

Write 1.25 on line 2 below for all other applicants who use tobacco.

Use the height and weight chart on page 7 to determine the rate class and factor for all other applicants who don't use tobacco. Write the rate factor on line 2 below.

Step 3: Household discount factor
If the applicant lives in the same household with another person age 50 or older, regardless of whether both sign up for coverage with Medico Insurance Company, a discount is applied to the premium rates. Write 0.9 on line 3 below if the applicant is eligible for the household discount. Write 1 on line 3 below if the applicant is not eligible for the household discount.

Step 4: Find the mode factor
Determine the mode factor for the method of premium payment requested by the applicant. Write the mode factor on line 4 below.

Note: If a method of premium payment is not listed here, it is not available.

Mode factors
Monthly via automatic bank withdrawal	1
Quarterly via automatic bank withdrawal	3
Semi-annually via automatic bank withdrawal	6
Annually via automatic bank withdrawal	12
Monthly via credit or debit card	1.032
Quarterly via credit or debit card	3.096
Semi-annually via credit or debit card	6.18
Annually via credit or debit card	12.36

Step 5: Calculate the premium

Multiply to determine the premium and round to the nearest cent:

$ _____ X _____ X _____ X _____ = $ _____

Line 1 Monthly base premium rate	Line 2 Rate class factor	Line 3 Household discount factor	Line 4 Mode factor	Final premium

Please note: Open Enrollment and guaranteed issue applicants will be rated as preferred rate class. Due to rounding, premium amounts you calculate may differ by a few cents from the final premium.
